The GGPE (geology and geological and petroleum engineering) department is restarting a chapter of the national geologic honor society - Sigma Gamma. This is a student led organization that focuses on service. Their service projects focus on education, especially within the realm of Geology. In the past this group did the Expanding Your Horizons Program and Boy Scout Programs. The honor society hopes to pick up these same service projects as well as other possible project either this year or next. They will have their first meeting next Tuesday (2/26) at 5pm in McNutt 124.
