Celebration of Nations:
Celebration of Nations is an international parade and festival that gives area residents and Missouri S&T students the opportunity to showcase and celebrate our vibrant cultural diversity. This year, we will be celebrating the 10th anniversary of the event on September 28. The day kicks off with Parade of Nations at 11am, which will include representatives from over 80 countries, marching bands, floats, and several S&T student organizations. Chancellor Dehghani will be this year’s Parade Marshal. The festival, immediately following the parade, will include vendors, cultural exhibitors and lots of fun for children. Celebrate Talent is the talent competition featuring performances from across the globe. Volunteers play a crucial role and the event would not be possible with the gracious support of our campus and community volunteers. Last year we had almost 100 volunteers for 445 hours of their time to Celebration of Nations. There are a variety of volunteer positions still open. Anyone who volunteers 4+ hours will be gifted a Celebration of Nations t-shirt. You can sign up to volunteer here: https://signup.com/go/vwwVgzb. More information about Celebration of Nations is available on our website and Facebook page. You can also contact Jackie Sanson, the Volunteer Coordinator for Celebration of Nations at sansonej@mst.edu.
